CHEATED U. S. FOR EIGHT YEARS.

Customs Weigher Tells How He Was Bribed By Sugar and Other Importers.

New York, Oct. 21.—Eight years of systematic and exceedingly profitable cheating of the United States government was described yesterday by George E. Birge, a customs weigher, who was called as a witness in the trial of Antonio and Philip Musca, cheese importers. After telling how he had underweighed a large importation of cheese for the Muscas and received $100 as his share of the profit, he said that he had had similar dealings with hundreds of other firms of importers. Not all, he said, were such big cases as the transaction with the Muscas, but he declared that there was a regular system of cheating in which a number of customs employees were involved. Birge is one of three weighers who has confessed and is testifying for the government.

The frauds in connection with the importation of sugar, which were tried some time ago in the government's suits against the American Sugar Refining company, were again brought up in Birge's testimony. He said that prior to his operations for the Muscas and others, he had been almost exclusively employed in underweighing and cheating on behalf of "the sugar people."

BODY FOUND
IN WATERJerry Lapan, Formerly of Rutland, Victim at Newport, N. H.

FOUL PLAY NOT SUSPECTED

Residents Near Place Where Body Was Found Heard Repeated Cries the Night Before, But Made No Investigation.

Newport, N. H., Oct. 21.—Jerry Lapan, who came to this vicinity ten years ago from Rutland, Vt., where he was well known and worth considerable property, was found dead in what is known as the "canal" near Cross street, yesterday morning by Mrs. Nettie Straw who lives near there. The body was in a very peculiar position, the head being submerged in the water while the feet were on the bank of the canal.

On Tuesday night about 10 o'clock the people who live in that vicinity heard loud calls at various intervals, and they continued for about an hour and a half. Apparently the people who did hear the cries, which were evidently for help, were too timid to venture out in the darkness, as the street is poorly lighted and incidentally is rather a questionable place any way. About 11:15 Lapan, who had evidently been clinging to the cross-log of the stream, gave up in sheer exhaustion, as this was the last time he uttered any cries, and was drowned in about four feet of water. There seemed to be no marks of violence on the body nor any appearance of foul play. It was thought that he must have fallen into the water and become stunned in some way so that he was unable to realize his condition and help himself.

Medical Examiner Saunders of Claremont viewed the body and the scene of the drowning and he pronounced it accidental drowning. The coroner's jury, which was called to view the body, returned a verdict of accidental death.

Mr. Lapan is survived by two sisters, who reside in town, Mrs. Daniel Lumen and Mrs. George Tarbell. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon.

LABOR MEN ARE GREATLY STIRRED UP

United Textile Workers in Convention at Washington, D. C., Deny That Children Are Better Off in the Mills.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—The United Textile Workers' convention to-day took cognizance of the statement made yesterday at Raleigh by Dr. C. W. Evans, the "chickadee" expert, that children are better off in the mills than at home where they would catch disease. F. C. Roberts of the Washington central labor union and Thomas F. Tracy of the American Federation of Labor vigorously denounced Dr. Stiles as a slandering slave for the children of the South.

The convention also today endorsed the fight of the Patterson, N. J., silk workers for an eight-hour day and against the putting of opaque glass in windows.

The agitation for legislation reducing the hours of labor in New England and other sections will be continued until no man, woman or child employed in the textile mills of the country is working more than eight hours a day.

The decision was embodied in resolutions calling upon every member of the union and all other organized workmen to join forces in urging upon the various state legislatures the necessity and importance of enacting legislation limiting the hours of labor still further.

John Golden of Fall River, general president of the international union, expressed himself as sanguine of the success of the textile workers' efforts to secure reformatory legislation. He referred especially to conditions in Massachusetts.

Samuel Ross of New Bedford, secretary of the mule spinners' union, spoke at some length in a similar vein. He predicted complete success for the textile workers in Massachusetts this winter.

"Massachusetts is behind other states in eight-hour legislation," said Mr. Ross, "but she will catch up this winter and 54 hours will be the rule before long."

Conditions in Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut were referred to briefly during the course of the discussion.

The convention approved a committee recommendation that an emergency committee be appointed in several sections of the country with power to order local strikes. Hereafter strikes could be ordered only by the executive council of the association. The recommendation was referred to the committee on laws.

A resolution was adopted commending to all local unions of textile workers the payment of accident benefits to their members, and recommending that, in line with suggestions made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, permanent beneficial features be created as a part of the business of the national organization.

Wyman, who went to Brookton and there found her daughter working in a shoe factory. Ella says she went away because she "wanted to see the world." She says she was sleeping in Brookton to earn money enough to take her further away. Regarding the stories that she had eloped with George Murphy, the girl says: "They are absurd."

STATE CONVENTION,
JUNIOR ORDER O. U. A. M.

Was Held at Montpelier Yesterday Afternoon and Last Evening—W. H.
Jeffrey, State Councilor.

The state council of the Junior Order of the United American Mechanics held its annual meeting yesterday in Grand Army hall in Montpelier with about 100 delegates present.

At the afternoon session Arthur E. White of Montpelier, state secretary, reported 30 live councils with a total membership of 1,479 against 1,271 in 1908. The report of the treasurer showed $428 on hand and all bills paid.

William H. Jeffrey, state councilor, reported a gain in membership in 13 years from 955 to 1,479. He also spoke of the flourishing condition of the order in the state and of the establishment of a Vermont room at the National Orphans' Home in Tiffany, Ohio.

The officers elected were installed by National Deputy Hulan of Rhode Island. They are: State councilor, W. H. Jeffrey of West Burke, unanimously re-elected for the third consecutive year; vice-councilor, E. M. Porter of Brownville Center; secretary, Arthur E. White of Montpelier; treasurer, E. Massey of North Danville; conductor, B. C. Wheeler of Newport Center; warden, J. R. Patrick of Windsor; inside sentinel, George B. Allen of Hyde Park; outside sentinel, C. A. Following the public meeting the local members of the Daughters of America, a companion branch of the order, served a banquet.

MONTPELIER BANK HAS DOUBTEUL NOTES

Which Were Allowed to Be Not Legally Issued at Framingham, Mass.—More Notes Appear.

Framingham, Mass., Oct. 21.—Three more town notes of which Town Clerk Frank E. Hemenway could find no trace on the selectmen's record of approval, were presented to Mr. Hemenway last yesterday by a man who declined to give his name and whose identity the town clerk would not disclose. These notes were for $10,000 each.

This brings the total amount represented by alleged spurious notes which have been turned in to the town clerk up to $153,000. The town officials believe that this represents less than half of the alleged forged notes which have been issued.

The selectmen of the town have been able to connect the town clerk, C. Cummings, the Boston broker, with transactions in notes of the town as far back as 1890. Between 1896 and 1901, thirty-one notes were sold to the state treasurer by brokers who received about $6,000 in premiums. These brokers were represented principally by the firms of E. H. Gay & Co., R. C. Cummings, and C. S. Cummings & Co.

A town official stated last night that notes valued at $30,000 and held by a bank in Montpelier, Vt., have been questioned as being not legally issued.

The Montpelier notes, it is said, were sold in that city by a man who represented that having turned the Montpelier bank had recently bought $75,000 worth of bonds from the town of Leominster. He thought that as the town of Framingham desired to negotiate a loan Montpelier would be a good place to get it.

Ferdinand Gosselin was the only man who refused to sign the agreement and only one market man remains to be won. The agreement reads as follows: "Believing the slaughter of does for commercial purposes at least is against the best interests of the citizens of the state, we, the undersigned meat dealers of Rutland, Vt., will not sell or buy any doe or part thereof during the season of 1909."

TO IMPROVE ATHLETICS; TO BANISH CIGARETTE

Double Appeal in Letter Which Principal
O. K. Hollister Presented to School
Principals in Vermont, Asking for Action.

Principal O. K. Hollister of Goddard, who went to Burlington this morning to attend the teachers' convention, will present the following letter at the meeting of the Schoolmasters' club, which meets there tomorrow. Copies of the letter having already been sent out to all of the members of the club for their consideration before the meeting:

"Dear Sir: At the next meeting of the Schoolmasters' club in Burlington, I plan to present two questions for consideration. The first is more active control of athletics by the athletic committee. This is my plan:

"Every school in the state which desires to be classified shall send to the committee its record for the last two years in foot ball, basket ball and base ball. The committee shall then divide the schools into two divisions in each sport, using their records as a basis of division.

"Each school shall arrange its schedule of games as now, and not be asked to play every other school in its division; and shall send its record at the close of its season to the committee. The committee shall then award a championship in each division. In the following year champions of the second division shall enter the first division, and the poorest team of the first division shall enter the second division. The committee shall select officials for games when requested to do so by either contestant.

"I believe that such an arrangement would raise the athletic standard in our schools and receive the approval of people and press.

"The second question is: What shall we do to check the cigarette habit among our boys? The law compels boys to go to school, a large sum of money is appropriated each year for their education, a small army of devoted men and women are giving their best service to prepare them for useful citizenship, and we are all sitting calmly by and seeing a large part of this money and service go to waste through the influence of the cigarette. Look over your enrollment of the last few years; make a list of the boys who are doing poor work, who are causing disorder; make another list of those who have failed and left school, and then see how many of them have been victims of the cigarette. I cannot tell you anything about the effects of the poison upon the boy. You see pitiable examples of it every day. What are you as an educator of boys going to do about it?

"We are hearing a great deal about a new Vermont about better schools, about the great need of more strong young men remaining in our state; if we can work together and fight the cigarette with the determination and vigor of which we are capable, we shall have a new Vermont, we shall have our boys in school doing good work, and we shall be able to say again in the future that one of the chief assets of the Green Mountain state is men. I hope you will be at Burlington ready for action. Respectfully yours, O. K. Hollister."
